The team discussed the progress of the front end work, the ongoing algorithm development, and emphasized the importance of collaboration and support.

- The team needs to finish the front end work before Thanksgiving break and start preparing for presentations.
- Joe and Miles are working on the front end, while Heidi is still working on the algorithm.
- They discussed connecting the front end with the algorithm once it is completed.
- If anyone needs help or feels overwhelmed, they should reach out to the team for support.